Hello! We're the Trent and Carolyn Cunningham family. What's different about our peaches, you may ask? Packing shed peaches must be picked earlier and greener than ours in order for the fruit to be durable enough to roll through the machinery of the packing lines. Instead of using packing machinery, we let our fruit hang as long as possible to get every drop of sugar before hand-picking and packing the fruit right there in the orchard.

It is our privilege to provide your family with tree-ripened peaches and pears that have been fed by the snow melt of the Colorado Mountains and kissed by the high altitude sun of beautiful Palisade, Colorado.
